

Refrigerated Van Body

Every detail in our refrigerated van bodies has been built with you in mind. We offer stainless steel door frames and front corners, along with indestructible composite liners that give you a working truck that lasts. Our composite sidewalls are the most thermally efficient available, and provide a flat surface for custom signage. Features like these make our refrigerated body a cut above the rest.

Whether it's our consistent high quality at a reasonable price, or our commitment to green manufacturing, we do things the right way. Our attention to detail and quality craftsmanship are second to none. Summit isn't the biggest, just the best.
